1. ACADEMIC INFORMATION

Graduate Degree Students (A.D.)

- Master of Arts (M.A.)
- Master of Theology (Th.M.)
- Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.)
- Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.)

The Graduate Degree programs are administered through the Graduate Centre for Theological Studies (GCTS) of the Toronto School of Theology in cooperation with the member colleges. Trinity's Director of Graduate Studies is Abraham (Ivan) Khan.

Basic Degree Students (B.D.)

- Master of Divinity (M.Div.) - 30 credits
- Master of Theological Studies (M.T.S.) - 20 credits
- Certificate in Theological Studies (C.T.S.) – 7 credits

Students enrolled in conjoint degree programs are also eligible to receive the following qualifications:

- Diploma in Theology
- Diploma in Ministry
- Diploma in Ministry for Church Musicians
- Diploma in Orthodox and Eastern Christian Studies

Advisors

Basic Degree students are assigned an academic advisor for the duration of their program. Students are cautioned that, while advisors are available to give advice, the ultimate responsibility for ensuring all program requirements have been met rests with the student. The advisor for the Master of Divinity and the Certificate in Theological Studies is the Dean, Chris Brittain. The advisor for the Master of Theological Studies is Professor Donald Wiebe.

SDF (Standing Deferred) Policy

Basic degree students at Trinity College are expected to complete all TST courses by the end of the term in which they were registered (with the exception of internship papers, and papers in Principles and Practice of Liturgy). Where there is good cause, and with the permission of the instructor, students may request an extension (SDF) beyond the last day of classes.

To receive an SDF (Standing Deferred) the student must:

a) obtain the petition form TST Basic Degree Request for Extension of Course Work Completion from the Divinity Office or go to https://www.trinity.utoronto.ca/divinity/div-students/student_forms.html;
b) take above-mentioned form to course professor for approval; if approved, obtain professor’s signature and deadline date for completion of course work;
c) submit the petition form to the Dean as appropriate by the next-to-last class meeting of the course. The petition is then brought before the Committee of the Teaching Staff for its consideration. SDFs convert automatically to INCs on November 1st each year.

Students are asked to take special note of section c), which states that students are to “submit the (SDF) petition form to the Dean as appropriate by the next-to-last class meeting of the course.” After the penultimate week of classes, SDF request forms for Trinity courses will no longer be available to students. Grades will be based on work completed.
Please Note:
All SDFs have to be completed by the last day of the following term. For courses taken in the spring term, SDFs have to be completed by August 31. (As per Committee of the Teaching Staff, June 5, 2002.)

Theological Field Education
The Master of Divinity includes a Supervised Field Education component in each of the three years of study. The three phases are: (I) Pre–Internship including the Theological Field Education Seminar, (II) Internship, and (III) Project. They must be undertaken in sequence. In each phase the student will construct a learning covenant with a supervisor appointed by the Director of Theological Field Education. Supervisors will normally be approved only if they have served a minimum of five years in professional ministry capacity and a minimum of two years in the setting for which the field education phase is being proposed. None of the phases is to be undertaken in the student's home parish or at Trinity College. In the pre-Internship and Internship phases, students may not receive remuneration for their work. At the conclusion of each phase the supervisor and the student will conduct a formal evaluation of the learning experience.

1) The pre-Internship phase comprises participation in the Theological Field Education Seminar and a minimum of 120 hours of ministry involvement. The type of ministry varies with the student's learning needs and interest and is arranged through the Faculty's Director of Field Education. The purpose of this phase is orientation and exploration. It could take the form of participating in the ministry of a congregation whose style of ministry is quite different from the student's home parish church. Involvement in non-parochial ministry is also possible. The appropriate set of forms (proposal, covenant, evaluations, Readiness for Ministry, code of ethics) is available from the Divinity Office and on the Trinity College web site.

2) The Internship phase is a full-time ministry placement normally undertaken in the fourth term of study (13 weeks, January to April). Preparation for the Internship includes specified courses in the M.Div. syllabus as well as the pre-Internship field placement. The Internship is planned and arranged with the Director of Field Education and in consultation with the student's Bishop. The process is as follows: In the spring prior to the Internship period, the student speaks with the Director of Field Education about areas of interest and what ministry context is attractive. The purpose of this consultation is to come to an agreement about how the field education staff and the student will work together to arrange an Internship placement. Internship arrangements presented without such consultation will not be accepted.

The second step is for the student to consult with the appropriate official in his or her diocese about the expectations and requirements of the Bishop.

In October of the student's third term, the final arrangements are made for the Internship placement. These arrangements are finalized by the Director of Field Education in consultation with the student's Bishop. Finally, it is essential that students be available for a daylong orientation conference, normally the last Saturday of November, and a two-day residential debriefing conference in mid-April.

The role of supervisor in the Internship is crucial for practice-based learning. It is essential that potential supervisors be committed to attending two seminars: one in the late fall for orientation, one during the Internship period. Supervisors are also encouraged to participate in Trinity's on-going supervisor training of three sessions per school year.

A broad variety of placements are possible in parishes, outreach and mission projects, hospital and prison ministry, etc. Combinations of ministry contexts, e.g. parish and hospital, are encouraged. Those heading for ordination are strongly advised to choose a parish placement, unless their bishop advises otherwise.

In considering a parish Internship, a small urban or rural context offers excellent learning opportunities. In rural communities, housing and a car can often be found for a student's use. A full description of the Internship phase is found in the Internship Handbook available from the Divinity Office and on the Trinity College website. The appropriate set of forms (as above) is available from the Divinity Office and on the Trinity College website.

3) The Project phase is meant to allow students to concentrate in a particular area of ministry such as Christian education, community/social ministry, preaching, ministry to the bereaved, counselling, evangelism, etc. The reasons for concentration in any area may be enrichment or remedial. Unlike phases 1 and 2 of Theological Field Education, it is permissible to receive some remuneration in this third Project phase.

Clinical Pastoral Education
A Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) unit is not a required part of the M.Div. program but is recommended. A CPE unit is best undertaken as a 12-week full-time placement in the April-June period. However, extended units are available during the academic year. A CPE unit undertaken in a programme approved or accredited by the Canadian Association for Spiritual Care (CASC/ACSS) receives 2 course credits.

Theological Field Education in the Faculty of Divinity concludes with an extended interview with the Director.

Preparation for Chaplaincy (and other Special Ministries)
Students may take on additional placements, over and above the three required, in order to complement work done in supervised pastoral education, or to provide an alternative when such clinical placements are not available. A special team of faith-based chaplains are available to provide a pool of supervisors. Students in such placements may apply for additional credits and may accept remuneration.

Bishop's Letters
Policy for reporting on M. Div. Students to Diocesan Bishops or Other Ecclesiastical Authorities

* M.Div. students should submit Field Education Internship, and CPE/PCE evaluations directly to their Bishops or other church authorities. Note that these evaluations are complete only when both the supervisors and the students report are submitted.

* M.Div. students who require an evaluative report from the Faculty of Divinity for their diocesan bishop, candidates committee, or other church authority, may request such a report in writing to the Dean, giving at least one month’s notice. It is up to the student to ascertain when such reports are required by the church and to give timely notice to the Faculty.

Normally, the report will be drafted in the following way:

1. When s/he receives a request for a report, the Dean will meet with the student to discuss his or her progress in the degree programme, and to make suggestions concerning the report's content, reviewing Student Self-Assessment of Degree Outcomes completed by the student.
2. The Dean will write a first draft of the report.
3. The report will be read and discussed at a regular meeting of the Teaching Staff. If necessary, other TST professors or field educators will be asked for input.
4. The Dean will revise the report (if necessary) based on comments from the teaching staff (and other appropriate college personnel).
5. The final draft of the letter will be signed by the Dean.
6. The student will be asked to meet with the Dean in order to read the final draft of the report. Upon reading the report, the student has two options: a) S/he may sign the report (with or without comments), thereby indicating that the report may be sent immediately to the appropriate authority; b) s/he may choose not to sign the report, in which case the report will be kept on file but not released until the student consents in writing.
7. Subsequent reports may consist simply of brief updates on the original report concerning the student's recent progress through the degree programme (e.g. internship, recent marks or prizes, etc.).

Liturgical Formation At Trinity College
Among the goals of Trinity College is to assist in the formation of people who will be able to preside or assist at the liturgy of the church knowledgeably and with dignity. We intend that our graduates be able to draw continuing nourishment from the liturgy and be able to lead others into its spiritual resources.

Liturgical formation at Trinity consists of three parts: regular worship in chapel, classroom sessions, and practica in singing, reading, leading the prayers of the people, preaching and eucharistic presiding at eucharist. Each component is vital for a well-founded preparation in the areas of liturgics and homiletics.

Our daily lives at Trinity exist within the parentheses of prayer. Each morning and evening the community comes together to worship God. Each day we are nurtured for our work and play through corporate worship. Each day we unite our voices with those of Christians around the world in prayer and praise.

The responsibility for the weekly planning of the liturgy belongs to the Liturgy Teams. Working with the Rev’d Andrea Budgey, and the Director of Music, Dr. John Tuttle, each team meets a week in advance to assign the various liturgical ministries among its members and to do the necessary liturgical planning. Those who are intending ordination in the Anglican Church are required to be a member of a chapel team at least once each term they are at the College.

The teams work collegially throughout the week for which they are responsible. They exercise a variety of liturgical ministries as they read, preach, lead the prayers of the people, act as acolyte and thurifer, officiate at the Offices, distribute communion, assist at the Eucharist, and take the role of Liturgical Coordinator (LC). In the week following their turn on team, members reflect on their experience and evaluate what went well and what might be done differently in the future.

Training for the various liturgical ministries is a part of preparation for the week. The Dean and other staff members are resources for training during the team's term of duty. Team members are expected to help and support one another through the week. The Liturgical Coordinator (LC) leads a rehearsal for those exercising a number of duties at the principal Community Eucharist on Tuesdays. Attendance at both rehearsals and the week’s liturgies is an integral part of the team's responsibilities.

Liturgy Teams have become an important part of our community life. Because they rely on collegiality for their effectiveness, it is imperative that team members participate as fully as possible in all the liturgies during their week. (This may mean making arrangements for some of your other responsibilities during the week you are on team and on the preceding Wednesday for planning, and for the evaluation meeting.) Working together and respecting the gifts each of us has been given has a significant effect on building up our common life of prayer.

The classroom is the setting for another dimension of liturgical formation at Trinity. Throughout the M.Div. program students are enrolled in courses related to liturgy. Students starting 2018 and later should enroll in TXJ2401H - The History, Theology, and practice of Anglican Liturgy. Not only does this course presuppose students are being formed in their team work, it is also designed to provide a basic introduction to homiletics, church music and liturgy. Students who started before September 2018 and who have registered in the course Principles and Practice of Liturgy with the Rev’d David Neelands will continue on in the course.

Practica provide the occasion for students to have "hands on" experience of what they have learned. Students will preach in the Chapel as well as in Parish settings. In the final semester, occasion will be provided for each student to work on presiding at the Eucharist.
At first reading this may seem rather intimidating. It isn't. Remember that you bring your gifts to all of us. Share them and others will share theirs with you. The liturgy is our common work. There are lots of people to help you with things that may be new to you. Relax! Sing a new song to our God!

Course Catalogue
The Toronto School of Theology Course Catalogue is available at https://www.tst.edu/academic/course/listings and listed under their respective departments (Biblical, Historical, Pastoral, Theological), and in print from the Divinity Office.
Complete the course code. Check the DONE box only after a grade has been assigned to that course. Note any substitutions in the space provided and obtain the initial of the professor. Courses listed in bold in the chart below are the required courses for the M.Div. Program. All others are electives, including those recommended course that are listed here. Students may substitute other courses for required courses with the permission of the Committee of the Teaching Staff.

In addition to the courses listed below in the Pastoral Department and the Field Education components, students must ensure that they have at least four courses in each of the remaining three departments, Biblical, Historical, and Theological. Cross-listed courses may be considered only once. With the permission of the Faculty, courses offered in the Orthodox and Eastern Christian Studies program may be substituted for the equivalent required courses.

Students planning advanced degree study should include an ancient language in their programme and note the further requirements of the department under consideration. The Master of Divinity degree with honours is especially recommended for such students.

Normally 15 credits must be completed before the Internship semester.

MASTER OF THEOLOGICAL STUDIES (M.T.S.)

Academic Requirements (2019 Rubric)  Student:____________________________________

Of the twenty course credits required for the programme, five will be required: introductions to Bible (Old Testament, New Testament), history, pastoral theology and systematic theology, and each must be supplemented by two further courses in each of the four departmental fields. All students must enrol in a one-credit course of independent studies in their final term in which they will engage in a summative reflective exercise resulting in a substantive report or major paper; those considering the possibility of further graduate work in theology are advised to write a thesis (2 credit). The remaining five or six courses are electives, permitting students to concentrate their studies in areas of particular interest. The table below represents course requirements, but the order is optional. It is, however, recommended that introductory courses be taken first! Complete the course code. Check the DONE box only after a grade has been assigned to that course. Note any substitutions in the space provided and the professor must initial. Programme changes must be approved by the Committee of the Teaching Staff. There is no residency requirement for the M.T.S.

Students planning advanced degree study should include an ancient language in their programme and note the further requirements of the department under consideration.

2. FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Bursaries
Through the generosity of benefactors, the College has available funds which may be awarded to students in good standing who give satisfactory evidence that without such assistance they would have difficulty completing their course of study. Application forms are available in the Divinity Office and should be returned by the posted deadlines. Normally the Bursary Committee meets in May, September, and December. Outside funding is limited, but when opportunities are available they are posted on the Divinity notice boards. For applications and further information, check at the Divinity Office.

Trinity College Faculty of Divinity BASIC DEGREE BURSARY POLICY

The bursary programme is intended to assist basic degree students who, without financial assistance otherwise might have difficulty completing their programmes. The intent of this policy is to ensure that each student's individual situation is considered in a manner that is equitable to all applicants. Awards decisions are made by a Bursary Committee composed of the Dean of Divinity, the Controller/Bursar, one member of the teaching staff, one alumna/us and the Divinity Registrar.

The total amount of assistance available is determined by the income generated annually by trust funds and gifts designated for the purpose.

Eligibility

1. Students must apply for bursary support by the published deadlines (generally on or about September 15, December 10 [for internship and emergency applications] and May 15). Except in very special emergency situations late applications will not be considered. No student will be considered except by application.

2. Awards are based on financial need. Applicants are expected to disclose fully all household resources and expenses.

3. Students are expected to have realistic financial plans to cover the period of their programmes and to have explored other reasonable sources of funding (family and spousal contributions, church and other granting agencies, scholarships, government assistance including loans, childcare and special needs bursaries, etc.) before completing the application for bursary assistance.

4. The bursary committee will consider reasonable expenses related to a student's programme including tuition, books, required programme expenses, and a basic level of family or personal living expenses. The committee reserves the right to demand proof of emergency expenses.

5. The Bursary committee requests students who are eligible to apply to OSAP or equivalent options. The committee however, recognizes that students may have already accumulated significant debt in achieving first degrees or if entering ministry as a second career may have already set aside significant funds for retirement or family life. Students are not expected to enter into unsustainable levels of indebtedness or to liquidate fixed assets (e.g. real estate and RRSPs). However, students must appreciate that continuing in or returning to university may necessitate a change in lifestyle for themselves and their families. The bursary committee will not consider reasonable need to include costs beyond basic or emergency expenses. Neither will it make awards to pay previous debt or to increase retirement assets during the programme.
6. The committee will not discriminate against an applicant because of family status. However, applicants must disclose their entire financial situation including their family's and/or partner's resources and expenses.

7. While bursaries are need-based and not academic awards, they are intended to support students through the normal length of a programme. Bursary support will be limited to three years of full-time study unless exceptional circumstances warrant further assistance. Part-time students may be considered. Students must have an overall 60% average to continue to be eligible for bursary assistance. Special and non-degree students will be considered only in exceptional circumstances.

8. International students may be considered for bursary assistance. However, like domestic students, international students and their families are expected to have reasonable financial plans to pay for the costs of a university education. Expenses will be considered in the same manner as domestic students (i.e. limited travel allowance). Awards to foreign students will not be larger than the maximum awards made to domestic students.

9. Several bursary funds give preference to students who meet certain conditions (e.g. ordination stream, year of programme, diocese etc.). There are enough unrestricted funds available that a student should not be excluded from assistance for not meeting conditions of the restricted funds.

Application

1. Applications are available online at http://www.trinity.utoronto.ca/divinity/div-students/student_forms.html

2. The budget should encompass the financial year commencing May 1 and ending April 30 the following year. The budget should extend personal savings over the length of the programme, i.e., do not budget in such a way that savings will be consumed in one year.

3. Awards will be based on financial need, and therefore may not be one of the award amounts listed above. The "Award Limit" is the amount available for the summer session and the winter session combined, and this limit will not be exceeded except in extraordinary circumstances.

Terms of the Award

1. Students who are awarded a Fellowship in the College, or any other major award, will have the amount of the award included as income in their bursary application. Changes in income must be reported to the Bursary Committee.

2. The award will be deposited to the student's account and will be applied first against outstanding tuition fees, library fees, and/or College loans. Any excess will be available to the student under the conditions of their notification letter.

Repayment of Awards

Full or partial repayment of award will be requested if the student transfers to another college, or changes course load. Repayment may also be requested if a student subsequently receives a major award.
Emergency Assistance

Financial assistance is available to students who find themselves in emergency situations such as the need for urgent dental care. Assistance may be provided either in the form of a short-term loan or as supplement to the normal bursary award. The Bursary Committee will determine eligibility for such assistance. Limited funds are available.

Trinity College Faculty of Divinity ADVANCED (GRADUATE) DEGREE BURSARY POLICY

It is each student’s responsibility to meet the financial commitments associated with their study at Trinity College. The intention of bursaries is to assist students who have been refused other avenues of funding but nevertheless require financial assistance to continue their studies.

Eligibility

1. There is no restriction based on citizenship or status in Canada.

2. Students beyond the second year of a master’s programme or beyond the sixth year of a doctoral programme are not eligible. (Year calculation will include any years spent earning credit towards the desired degree. Official leaves of absence are excluded.)

3. Applicants must have at least a B+ average grade from a three or four year bachelor’s degree programme from an approved university. Current Graduate Degree students must also have at least a B+ average for the last two years of graduate work.

4. Graduate Degree students must consult with the Graduate Degree Director to determine whether the College will require them to prepare an application to SSHRC or OGS. Such applications will only be required, if in the opinion of the Graduate Degree Director, there is a reasonable chance for success. Applicants asked to apply to SSHRC or OGS will be required to attach proof of rejection to their application. This includes master’s students applying for a doctoral programme. Entering students should be encouraged to apply for this award as well, although this will not be a requirement. Visa students are exempted from this requirement.

5. The Bursary committee requests students who are eligible to apply to OSAP or equivalent options. The committee however, recognizes that students may have already accumulated significant debt in achieving first degrees or if entering ministry as a second career may have already set aside significant funds for retirement or family life. Students are not expected to enter into unsustainable levels of indebtedness or to liquidate fixed assets (e.g. real estate and RRSPs). However, students must appreciate that continuing in or returning to university may necessitate a change in lifestyle for themselves and their families. The bursary committee will not consider reasonable need to include costs beyond basic or emergency expenses. Neither will it make awards to pay previous debt or to increase retirement assets during the programme.

6. Applicants must demonstrate financial need within a reasonable budget.
Application

1. Applications are available from the Divinity Office.

2. The budget should encompass the financial year commencing May 1 and ending April 30 the following year. The budget should extend personal savings over the length of the programme, i.e., do not budget in such a way that savings will be consumed in one year.

3. Awards will be based on financial need within the award limit given to each programme. The award limit is the amount available for the summer session and winter session combined, and this limit will not be exceeded except in extraordinary circumstances.

4. Applications will be considered in May and September and should be submitted by the published deadlines (generally May 15 & September 15).

Terms of the Award

1. Students who are awarded a fellowship in the College, or any other major award, will have the amount of the award included as income in their bursary application. Changes in income must be reported to the Bursary Committee.

2. The award will be deposited to the student's account and will be applied first against outstanding tuition fees, library fees, and/or College loans. Any excess will be available to the student under the conditions of their notification letter.

Repayment of Awards

Full or partial repayment of award will be requested if attendance is less than thirteen weeks in any term, if the student transfers to another college, or is reclassified to part-time student status. Repayment may also be requested if a student subsequently receives a major award.

Emergency Assistance

Financial assistance is available to students who find themselves in emergency situations such as the need for urgent dental care. Assistance may be provided either in the form of a short term loan or as supplement to the normal bursary award. The Bursary Committee will determine eligibility for such assistance. The Divinity Class
All students enrolled in the Faculty of Divinity, whether at the Basic Degree level or the Graduate Degree level, form the "Divinity Class". The chief student officers are the "Co-Heads of Divinity," who by virtue of that office share in the government of Trinity College and the Faculty of Divinity on many levels. Divinity Class representatives serve on Divinity and College committees as noted in Governing Committees (page 26).

- The Ceremony
  Convocation takes place in Strachan Hall at 7:30 p.m. in May of each year (usually the second Tuesday of May). Graduands will gather in the front hall by the Porter's Lodge at 7:00 p.m. with an academic gown and (optional) hood.

Please note: if you choose to supply your own hood, you will carry the hood on your arm until the awarding of the degree, after which you may wear it. For those who do not bring a hood, the Registrar will have one on hand with which to confer the degree, but it will be removed immediately for use with the next student.

- Gowns
  Academic gowns must be worn. You may purchase your own or borrow one in the Boardroom on the night. You do not need to reserve one in advance, as there will be an ample supply on hand. DMin, ThD and PhD students, however, should contact Divinity Registrar to borrow a gown.

- Photographs
